

STONEWORKS
of Bath

The first choice of leading interior designers and architects

Since we specialised in natural limestone fire surrounds in 1985, Stoneworks of Bath has become the first choice of leading interior designers and architects. They trust the skills and craftsmanship we have perfected over two decades of hands on experience. They also know that our perspective approach to design enhances the stone's natural beauty to create surrounds that will live in harmony with interiors, whatever their style.

Left: Claverton in Bath Stone.

Below: Carving the St Andrew's Thistle

Let your imagination run free

We pride ourselves in our ability to produce designs of any kind. Working from photographs, magazine cuttings, or your own drawings, no matter how rough, our bespoke service will create precisely the fireplace you desire.

Our process...

A Client's original fax provided the initial inspiration for the design.

Our initial design drawing, this was carefully developed with the client to reach the final design.

Clay head maquette to test the creation of sculptural features for the surround.

Top left: Traditional hand carving.

Bottom left and centre: Beautifully proportioned period details came through historical research by our own team as part of the design process.

Right: The finished carved limestone fireplace The "Woodbarton" in Portland Stone.

Locally quarried stone

Our surrounds are hand worked in England from natural stone. All are cut from locally quarried stone. However, if requested we are pleased to source new materials as we are always looking to expand our range of options.

Top left: The 'Rudloe' with carved header detail in Portland stone.

Bottom left: 'Bolection' style in Hartham Park Bath stone.

Above: The classic 'Lyncombe'. Carved in Ham stone with a mason's eye spandril.

Right: 'The Abbey'. With plain spandrels, one-piece hearth, plinth, tapered stone lined chamber. Swan's nest fire basket and barley twist dogs. In Bath stone.

Inspiration from History

We have researched and collated a fine range of in-house designed fireplaces to suit a range of periods, interior styles and room sizes. Our range includes surrounds suitable for cottages to large country houses with styles from the 15th century to the present day. We are also happy to make exact replicas of existing antique fireplaces from any era and at any scale and using a wide range of materials.

Left: 'Bishops Avenue'. Carved in Hartham Park Bath stone and based on arts and crafts design, this magnificent fireplace features oak and acorn details. Note the matching cornice work as the plasterwork meets stone tabature. The walk around fire chamber is lined with cast iron reeded panels.

Top right: Head piece to cornice, carved from one piece of stone.

Bottom right: Oak and acorn detail

www.stoneworks.co.uk

www.stoneworks.co.uk

Craftsmanship

"We are delighted by the stone doorways installed in the last few days. It is a lovely piece of stonework. Having endured many months of a building project it was a relief to see something go so perfectly"

Caroline Clarke, Devon

Right and below: Double sided arched doorway in Bath stone.

Stoneworks of Bath offer fireplaces to suit homes of every style and size. Our elegant surround designs not only echo historic style but also present the best of sophisticated, contemporary design. All are entirely worked by hand from quarried blocks of natural stone by our banker masons.

St Andrew's

The Holborne

The Charkham

Aga surround

Woodstock

Bolection with curved mantle

Yurko

Moderno

Frazier

We welcome all enquires, whether they are specific, or you'd just like to discuss an idea, please call or visit us, we'd love to help.

Stoneworks of Bath
Leafield Stoneyard, Potley Lane,
Corsham, Wiltshire SN13 9RS
Tel 01225 816400 Email info@stoneworks.co.uk

Stoneworks of Bath is a Rudloe Company

www.stoneworks.co.uk